

creative designer - maternity cover ●

r//evolution is a successful full-service agency delivering fantastic work for clients across the North East and beyond. As our portfolio is expanding, we are looking for an ambitious and talented creative designer to provide maternity cover for 12 months.

If you love finding creative solutions that will help businesses to flourish and grow, this may be the perfect role for you. You will need a good appreciation of all aspects of branding and the development of brands from creation to evolution.

With an ability to design for all channels – digital and traditional, you will need to be confident in creating powerful and engaging brand communications and web designs. A talent for illustration is also essential. You will work with fellow creatives, content writers and web developers to communicate our clients' messages seamlessly and with clear differentiation.

A creative yet logical thinker, you will be adept at translating your own and others' ideas into visuals. If you have a sound commercial understanding, and relevant experience of around 2-3 years, then get in touch.

With the ability to effectively interpret your creative solutions, you will develop excellent working relationships with our clients, becoming their trusted advisor and brand guardian. Our client portfolio is diverse – from training to tourism, so you'll need to be an agile thinker and flexible operator.

You will be joining a well established, ambitious team with a strong and fast-growing client portfolio. With our client-centric approach, and a focus on delivering excellence, we actively support our team to continuously develop their skills and abilities.

InDesign, Illustrator & Photoshop will be your main tools, in addition to standard business systems. You will be working from our bright and open studio, overlooking the river Tyne in the Northern Design Centre, Gateshead.
